Deckorators first popularized the use of metal balusters. And we still lead the industry to this day, offering the largest selection of artistic balusters – with an advanced powder-coat finish for even greater long-term performance*. Choose from a wide assortment of Deckorators aluminum balusters in many shapes, styles, colors and sizes. Or, build your railing with one of our two glass baluster styles to provide an uninterrupted view of your surroundings.

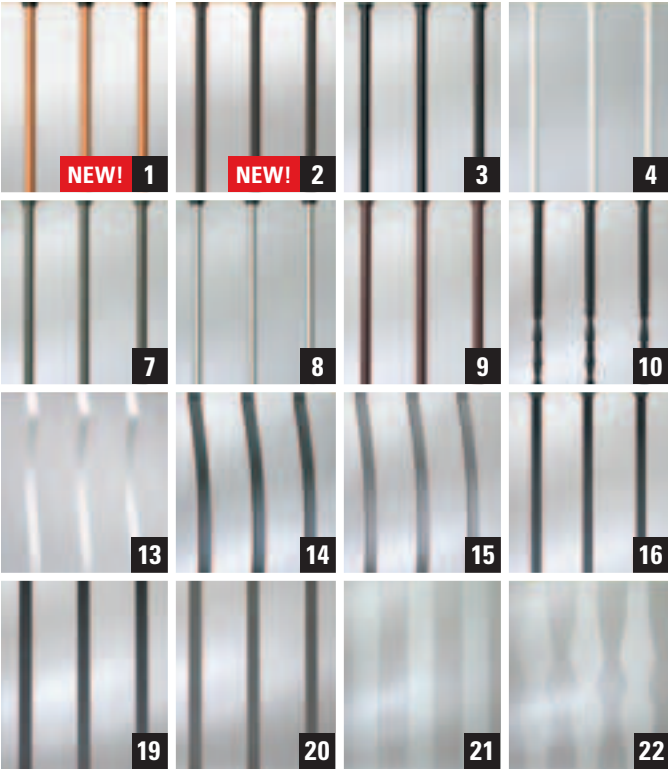

Choose Classic, Colonial, Baroque, Arc, Estate or Traditional styles in black, white, bronze, rust or other colors. (Available colors vary by style). Use just one baluster style, or alternate between two styles for a custom look. Add even more flair with baskets or collar accessories. Or use Deckorators Duo Connectors to create railings that boast an entirely new look.

All Deckorators balusters come ready-to-install using easy connectors. And each style works beautifully with Deckorators aluminum railings.

Black Aluminum Cap Rail, Insert Rail and 2x4 Rail

Tropical Hardwood Cap Rail

Deckorators railings are made of heavy-gauge aluminum with a thick powder-coated finish, for great looks and long-lasting toughness. Their classic, robust profile goes well with any Deckorators baluster style. Post-sleeves slide over treated or cedar 4x4s—making this system ideal for remodels or new projects. And Deckorators' innovative rail system lets you snap on the cap rail without visible fasteners for quick, secure installations.

Deckorators railings come in black or white with 36" or 42" rail heights, sold in boxed kits for 6' or 8' sections. Both 22.5° and 45° stair rail bracket kits are available separately. And included in the line is a tropical hardwood cap rail option that beautifully accents wood or composite decks.

To top it all off, Deckorators offers 22 designer post cap options—including two new styles—to add the finishing touch of your choice.

Secondary Handrail

Oiled Bronze
with Black Base

Deckorators pioneered the first decorative covers for deck posts. Our cast stone postcovers boldly carry on this tradition, transforming the posts and corners of any deck into magnificent, stately pillars.

Deckorators cast stone postcovers come in three realistic-looking, earthy styles. Each is made of fiberglass-reinforced concrete that is hand-painted for a more natural-looking appearance. These postcovers slip over 4x4 or 6x6 cedar or treated posts, measure 8" square and come in 42" and 53" heights.

Top off these stone-look columns with your choice of three postcover caps. Each fits perfectly atop the postcovers. Mix or match these post caps to add a crowning touch to your deck, in your own distinctive style.

Mounted at the highest point on the railing, post caps are one of the most prominent features of any deck or patio. New Deckorators VersaCaps let you top off these posts beautifully – no matter what size or type they might be.

Each VersaCap comes with three removable collar inserts nested inside the base. You simply remove one, two, three or none of these inserts to make the cap fit snugly on top of any post that ranges in size from 3-1/2" — 4-5/8" square. VersaCaps look great on top of posts made of any material – wood, vinyl or composite. They also work great with most leading post sleeves on the market.

VersaCaps are available in copper, black and white in high point styles and two solar-lighting options.

Decorative post caps are one of the first things people notice about an outdoor deck or patio. These accessories often create the longest lasting impression of your project, as well.

That's why Deckorators offers more post cap styles than any other brand – more than two dozen varieties in all – including new ones introduced here. So you can add more color, light and flair to your outdoor living space while eloquently expressing your own personal style.

Our designer post caps do everything from holding plants to shining light to simply gracing the rail's uppermost points with colorful accents and elegant forms. Deckorators post caps are made with premium material such as high-polish metals, leaded Tiffany art glass and brilliantly jewel-tinted glass. Most styles fit both 4x4 and 6x6 posts (see product listing for details). And all are offered with your choice of pressure-treated pine or cedar bases.

Post caps made entirely of metal or featuring metal-clad surfaces add a luxurious touch to decks as well as to the top of signposts, mailboxes and other projects. Polished metal reflects sunlight, while colored metals impart a sumptuous elegance. Deckorators offers a wide variety of premium metal post caps in styles suited to every application and personal taste.

Deckorators metal post caps come in peak, plateau and ball-top profiles. The Victoria Metal styles have tops plated in metal ranging from polished copper to painted white or green. Post Points are available in polished copper or a real patina finish. Maranacook styles feature pointed or ball-shaped metal caps atop bases made of Western red cedar. Most styles are available to fit either 4x4 or 6x6 posts. Besides making striking finials, these metal post caps provide added durability and weatherproofing for outdoor projects.
